Disk Storage

Business Wire, 3/30/95

IBM announced that it has demonstrated another new world record in magnetic data storage density. The new mark is 3 billion bits (3 gigabits) of data per square inch -- nearly five times the density of the most advanced disk drive available today. IBM scientists used advanced versions of IBM's magneto resistive (MR) recording heads and ultra-low-noise thin-film magnetic hard disks. In the 3-gigabit demonstration, bits were stored at a linear density of 180,000 bits per inch along concentric tracks packed at 16,500 per radial inch. Each data bit measures only 5.6 millionths of an inch long by 40 millionths of an inch wide -- about one-quarter the area of bit cells in current optical data-storage products

Batman Forever

Joe Harvey

Batman forever is a great movie. The new actors brought in really give the movie more momentum. Jim Carry as the riddler really gives the movie some drive and plot. He continues to use the one-liners and strange expressions that made Ace-Ventura and the Mask successful. The action in this movie builds up quickly and keeps going for the entire movie. Not until the very end does it let down. It runs for 2 hours and 1 minute plus previews. I felt let down after the second Batman. This is definitely not the case with this movie.

Our Own Room

James D. Corder

On Tuesday June 13, 1995 the church property committee graciously bestowed upon Explorer Post 369 their own meeting room. Therefore, we can leave the computer network set up. This is a major advancement for our Post.

Quote of the Month

A dog in a hunt doesn't know he has flees.

Movie Review of Braveheart

DJ Gregor

It was awesome. Everyone has to go and see it.

Microsoft

From the Net.

Q: What is the difference between "Jurassic Park" and Microsoft?

A: One is a high-tech theme park dominated by dinosaurs, and the other is a Steven Spielberg movie.

The Explorer Code

As an Explorer-

I believe that American's Strength lies in her trust in God and in the courage and strength of her people

I will, therefore, be faithful in my religious duties and will maintain a personal sense of honor in my own life.

I will treasure my American heritage and will do all I can to preserve and enrich it.

I will recognize the dignity and worth of my fellowmen and will use fair play and goodwill in dealing with them.

I will acquire the exploring attitude that seeks the truth in all things and adventure on the frontiers of our changing world.
